Planning, Extra Tholley Service.

General Manageri Samuel Anderson, Norwich, and George Edmands, Dayville, local superintendent, officials of the Shore Line Electric Railway company, were in Putnam, Friday afternoon to discuss with Rev E. J. Harriman, secretary for the Chamber of Commerce, and Attorney E. C. Morse, secretary of the Chautauqua arganization, plans for extra trolley service during the summer ingeneal and during Chautauqua week in particular.

Beginning this afternoon Putnam is to set haif-hourly trolley service on Saturdays and the same will be given on Sundays. The haif-hourly cars will run just 30 minutes later than the hourly cars. The local men urged upon the railroad officials that haif-hourly service be given on Thursday afternoons also, but this will not be granted at this time, although the railway officials expressed their willingness to grant it if plater an increase in traffic sufficient to warrent the extra service is shown. On account of the federal license charges for theaters now in force being considered excessive, the regular theater programs are not being given at Wild, wood park this year, so the week day half-hourly service during the summer period is not in force

Policeman Mitchell testified that he found the bottle of whiskey behind a trunk in a bedroom and the beer in the cellar, except the partly filled bottle, which was found in the front room. There were three men in the house and one was in the act of drinking beer.
Constable Russell Slocum said he was stationed at the front door and that a man with a bottle of beer in his pocket attempted to leave the house and was sent back.

Mr. Wurick said he had fived in Westerly for ten years, had never been arrested or haled into court for any purpose and never had any trouble with the police. He said he had a wife purpose and never had any trouble with the police. Heisaid he had a wife and six children to support and did not have steady work and had to live economically. He said he was accustomed to take a drink of whiskey or beer and that he could not afford to pay 10 cents for a little drink of whiskey or io cents for a little drink of whiskey or io cents for a bottle of beer, including the bottle, and he surely could not afford to visit the saloon. So he bought his beer by the case and his whiskey by the quart, just the same as he did his provisions, by the quantity, as it was the cheaper way. He believed it was within his rights to have beer and whiskey in his house for his own use and declared he never kept it for sale or with any intent to sell. In answer to queries from Town Solicitor Agard, Mr. Wurlek said that two of the men who were in the house were his boarders and that the third man was a painter who had painted the house. Mr. Wurlek had summoned the painter to show him some defect in the work which should be remedied, and had invited him into the house to have a glass of beer only a few minutes before the officers arrived.
